As a husband and father, he wants to give his family a great inheritance both by way of financial wealth, but also in value and character development. It is also his wish to assist members of the HFD team to provide a financial inheritance for their families as well.

He serves in various ministries at his church, working with children, youth, and adults. Mr. Daniels feels that working as a servant in this way provides an opportunity to connect with people of all age, share his knowledge, and keep an open mind to learn and grow.
